UNION PACIFIC MERGER CALLED NEXT MONDAY

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 5.—Next Monday morning the United States circuit court will begin hearing the arguments of attorneys in the case of the United States government against the Union Pacific and other defendants who make up what is known as the Union Pacific merger.

The suit was instituted at Salt Lake in February, 1908.

The suit was instituted at Salt Lake in February, 1908.

According to the allegations of the government, the defendants have been engaged in furthering a conspiracy, the purposes of which are to destroy railroad competition west of Kansas City by welding into one vast co-operative interest all the railroad companies named as defendants.

This according to the complaint of the government, was substantially accomplished by means of clever purchases and combinations of stock, except that the attempt to gain control of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific systems, which control the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, was a failure.

PROVO UNION STATION IS NEARING COMPLETION

The new union station at Provo, one of the handsomest in the state outside Ogden and this city, is rapidly nearing completion. It will be occupied before the winter sets in. The station is a credit to the thriving city and will be a great convenience. Alresdy plans are being made for some sort of jolification when the first train pulls into the new terminal.

PROVO GRANTS FRANCHISE TO NEW INTERURBAN LINE

The city of Provo has granted the franchises to the new interurban electric planned to run through that place and connect it with Salt Lake City. The promoters are now getting busy in further plans for the construction of the much-discussed line, which will be the making of that portion of Utah.

Machinists in Conference.

ST. LOUIS. Oct. 6.—Machinists of the Missouri Pacific & Iron Mountain system, who have been on a strike since May I. began a conference with General Manager A. W. Sullivan of the Gould lines here today. James O'Connell, chairman of the board of the International Association of Machinists, said, as he entered the conference room, that if the strike was not ended all mechanical unions on the lines might be called out.

In common with other southwestern roads, the Gould lines granted the machinists an Increase of 3 cents an hour. The working conditions and hours are now in dispute. O'Comnell, who is third vice president of the American Federation of Labor, said 1200 men were represented at the conference.
